

Chapter-32

LABOUR & EMPLOYMENT

Labour Statistics are collected, compiled and disseminated by several agencies in India. Ministry of Labour and Employment is one of the most important sources of labour statistics in India. It collects labour statistics through the offices of Labour Bureau, Directorate General of Employment and Training (DGE&T), Directorate General of Labour Welfare (DGLW) and Directorate General Factory Advice Service & Labour Institutes (DGFASLI). Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation is the other major source which collects and publishes the data through two important organisations viz. the Central statistical Organisation (CSO) and the National Sample Survey Organisation (NSSO). Besides these two, State governments also collect labour statistics, mostly through the Department of Labour & Directorate of Economics & Statistics.
